On his way to meet Julie on Sanibel Island in late February—separate flights, separate cars—Mike spent a night in Titusville, FL, for a long-awaited, first-time visit to the Kennedy Space Center. He later stopped at Gatorama for some punny animal encounters.

Things that happened in Raleigh this summer: earthquake (August), hurricane aftermath (August), and downtown rioting (May). Mike took that picture.

THINGS WE BOUGHT IN BULK: FACE MASKS, RUBBER GLOVES, CLOROX WIPES, LIQUID BLEACH, HAND SANITIZER, COLD MEDS, T.P., PAPER TOWELS, BOTTLED WATER (BUT WHY?), GATORADE MIX (FOR EMERGENCY ELECTROLYTES), CANS O' SOUP, PASTA, RICE-A-RONI, FRESH MEAT TO FREEZE, PROCESSED MEATS TO COOK (AHEM, WHICH WE RARELY DID), AND WAY TOO MANY SWEETS.

Went to Wilmington for the day to see Dionaea muscipula (Venus flytrap) in the wild. They're native to exactly one region on the planet, a sixty-mile radius of there.

Will lament for food

Our adventures in streaming? The binge list included Agents of SHIELD, The Americans, Call the Midwife (Julie), The Crown (Julie), Fargo, Homeland, and The Outsider. Loved them all.
